Qualitative

Comments -
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• He is the most understanding and helpful professors that I have had at SHSU.</li> <li>• would be nice to have more ways to remember content!</li> <li>• When I started the course i was really confused but when we began to take the things we learned and applied it to our research paper it made more sense to me</li> <li>• Many of the concepts that you talk about during the course are somewhat abstract so it makes it easier to understand when you give real world examples of how that concept applies. I would honestly make attendance mandatory also.</li> <li>• Passionate instructor that maximizes his efforts to ensure all students understand the course material.</li> <li>• Good teacher. He makes content easy to understand and his grading built confidence in my political science writing skills; I am used to legal writing (e.g. case briefs, memorandums, petitions, contracts) and had very little confidence in my political science skills; Dr. Patane has made me a little more confident</li> <li>• For his first year at Sam he did a great job</li> </ul>

Comments -

- He was an excellent professor. He made the class very enjoyable and always answered questions and was always available to help outside of class or office hours.
- More extra credit.
- A good teacher that knows what his talking about.
- great teacher maybe give more work to help balance out the grades of the test for those who are bad test takers. It's hard to boost our grade up.
- Test are way more in depth and difficult than the reviews
- Phenomenal Instructor, very high accolades but was very down to earth and relatable. His knowledge of the subject spanned much further than lecture slides, the content was very easy to learn because it was as if stories were being told. His confidence in knowing what he was saying was factual was superb which is the reason I felt it was so easy learning. It didn't matter the class size, who showed up and who didn't, the teaching style didn't change, great public speaking skills. There is nothing in need of improving, this was by far my best class in which I felt I learned the most.
- Was a good teacher but there could have been a few more grading opportunities
- He's a really good teacher!!!
- Instead of having just 3 test, have extra assignments and extra credit it would help out many students. Also by counting in attendance for extra credit can help out students with their grades. The reviews you gave out before the tests did help out while studying for the test, thank you for that.
- Christopher Patane is an amazing professor, this class is only difficult because it is simply a difficult course. He did a great job teaching, there's was just hard content to learn and this course is certainly not meant for the uneducated in politics like myself.
- Really awesome person! Sweet guy
- taking the course was great especially during the election because we were able to refer to the event to our class.
- You're an amazing teacher
- Good semester
- Maybe give homework so that the students have a way to work with the material outside of class other than just reading/studying. The reviews did not seem to help me too much because I knew the information on the review but did not know how to use this knowledge when it came to the test questions.
- Great class! I think you had a very interesting way of teaching and I really enjoyed it!
- Review a lil bit closer to the Test
- Clear, concise, understandable lectures and fairly straightforward tests, what more could a student ask for?
- I would have liked a more interactive class atmosphere, especially since it was a morning class when students tend to be less attentive.
- Great class! I really learned a lot!
- I wish there had been more assignments to help out my grade and/or extra credit opportunities.
- Would like a little extra homework or classwork to help me better understand the topics. Not against the class or instructor just need a little extra understanding and exercises rather than just slides and textbooks.
- He held only three exams and no in-between homework. This is terrible because there is no extra credit or way to practice the material in order to do well in the class. Everyone in the class hated that the grades in our exams were the only way to succeed in the class. I know Mr. Patane loves the subject but he also seemed like he did not want to be here.

- I think that having more exams with less content would make it easier to learn and retain the information.
- I enjoyed the ability to choose my topics and write my essays about thing that interest me. But regarding the teaching I just believe he could have split the class into more test so we did not have so much to study for one test. And honestly I felt like I did not learn anything from this class compared to my American government class that was made very fun and educating. This has to be one of my least favorite code classes I have taken.
- I would have liked more opportunities for facilitated discussion during class. (Ex. Stimulating questions every few slides during lecture to teach us to apply the material and form connections). Thanks for a great semester!
- The only major complaint I had about this course is the fact that there are so few exams. It becomes difficult to study for the exams because there is so much information to cover. It would be nice to have more grades to balance out in the overall semester grade.
- Great professor, was always super helpful.
- Enjoyed the tangents into exploring how the concepts can be applied to real life. Was excited to relate material to the class. Topics could be a bit dry sometimes, though that could be the subject matter in general.
- Dr. Patane was very forthcoming about his newness to Texas Government. However, I'm disappointed that an honors class would have him as an instructor. We deserve a more experienced instructor. Other than that, he did a fantastic job of researching and learning our course material throughtout the semester. But he used us as his guide to learn the material. Not the other way around. Great Professor, just a poor choice for this particular class.
- He is very good at explaining the course material and applying it to real-world happenings. However, I wish there were more grades than just 2 exams and 3 reports because some people struggle tremendously with one or both of those things. I think adding some daily work for a grade every once in a while would help students better prepare for exams and hopefully improve their grade. That was my only qualm with the course though. He is a great teacher.
